Artists at work on ice: Kansing's ice sculptures are earning rave reviews

L-G Mathur attends first Ladakh Ice & Snow Sculpture workshop, appreciates Kansing team

Stanzin Dasal

LEH: Group of local artists named, 'Kansing-Snow and Ice Sculpture Association' came up with an idea of Ice & Snow Sculpture in Ladakh. Though each artist has its style and works on different mediums but as a team, they came up to work on ice and snow which is available in abundance. They use their skill and talent by creating pieces of art using ice and snow to attract tourists from all over the world.

From the year 2018, the artists have been sculpting with ice on a very small scale in Ladakh and have participated in many international events and represented India such as Kiruna International Snow Festival in 2018 and Harbin International Ice and Snow Sculpture Festival, China in 2019.

Highly influenced by the ice and snow festivals in other countries, they came up with the idea of holding such Ice and Snow Festival which will boost winter tourism in Ladakh.

The Kansing team comprised of Tsering Gurmet, Chemet Dorjay, Stanzin Nurboo, Tashi Namgyal, Stanzin Wangyal, Stanzin Motup, Tundup Dorjay, Sonam Gyaltsen, skalzang Otsal, Jamyang Namgyal, Stanzin Norgais, Skalzang Olden, Tsering Youdol, Stanzin Samphel, Phuntsog Namgyal and Urgain Zawa committed to take this initiative forward. The team was supported by Dr. Nordan Otzer, Stanzin Chonjor Dawa and Tashi Wangtak to carry out the work forward.

Due to the prevailing COVID-19 situation

and shortage of funds, the artists decided to make it on a low key as First Ladakh Ice & Snow Sculpture Workshop to showcase as a model so that it can be replicated in the coming years on a large scale.

After two long months of hard work, the First Ladakh Ice & Snow Sculpture workshop was concluded on February 11. Lieutenant Governor R K Mathur appreciated Kansing team led by President, Tsering Gurmet Kungyam for taking the initiative of organising the workshop. He said that the youths of Ladakh has great talent in every field and can take Ladakh to new heights.

He also stated Ladakh as one of the few places in India blessed with snowfall and ice and said that the people of Ladakh should utilise the resources available in abundance. He said that such winter activities can create new opportunities and give new perspectives to the winter of Ladakh

LG Mathur further assured Administration support and assistance for machinery required for making ice sculptures for next year's event.

The challenges were there to make the site presentable to all the people. But with the support of Ladakh police headed by Additional Director General Of Police, Satish Khandare the artists gained the confidence to work. Ladakh Police donated ₹5 lakhs to purchase the machines etc. Also, the Contractor association and some individuals came forward and supported the work.

Dr Nordan said, "I learnt that this journey was not easy at all. Initially, they did not get much support from local government authorities as believing in such a huge dream was not forthcoming. They needed some funds to start and that is when Ladakh police came to their rescue. The police also wanted to encourage the youth to focus on constructive work and remain active and occupied during peak winter months".

Working with snow and ice without proper equipment and machines seems to be a difficult task and to make it available for smooth work is challenging because of funds constraints.

Nordan Odzer informed that the snow-making machines were required for such a large festival park and to make standardised snow sculptures. It cost over ₹26 lakhs. The Kansing team contacted Indrajeet Kakade and Murugan from the Technofrost company to provide support. They invited him to visit Ladakh and see their work. Murugan was highly moved and understood their requirements and customised the machine for ₹7 lakhs. A real Godsend.

"The artists stayed in tents near the Zanskar river in nearly -20 degrees temperature, cut blocks of ice with normal chisels and saws and transported them to the ice festival site to make sculptures. This is what is called pure passion and dedication. They were not paid any remuneration or fees for their hard work, yet, nothing stopped them. They did all this work completely voluntarily. All for their Ladakh", he added.

Team Kansing paves a new way to boost winter tourism in Ladakh and a new medium for the young artist to work upon specially during the winter months. Kansing is all set to carry forward the idea of the Snow and Ice festival in Ladakh in the coming years.

People's Voice

By Tenzin Dajon

LOBZANG SHERAB, Councillor Khaltse constituency: As a responsible councillor, I would like to say that Ladakh after UT status has achieved a whole new set-up at the doorstep. In the erstwhile state of Jammu and Kashmir, we used to face lots of difficulties in getting an appointment with the secretaries or its level officers to raise the issues of people. We had to get an appointment a month ago to meet the Governor. Even if we get the appointment there is very little chance that our issues will get addressed. In addition there was no guarantee that the demands will get fulfilled after the meeting. We should look at the reality instead of politicising the issue.

Today, the whole scenario is different we have UT administration along with Hill Council to develop the region and take Ladakh to new heights. We can meet the Lieutenant Governor and Secretaries easily with our concerns and issues without wasting time. Many new and big projects are being taken up by the UT administration and Hill Council to develop the region. Therefore I don't think there is any power conflict between UT administration and Hill Council; both are performing well in each field.

It is good that we are talking about the empowerment of the Hill Council and effort is being made to further strengthen it. We have seen that the opposition is blaming and raising questions on the budget without looking back at the history. What was the Council's budget before 2019? Today it is around Rs.237 crore. We should not take the 27 percent expenditure of the budget negatively as we have achieved this with limited manpower, because in future when the recruitment process gets completed then the expenditure percentage will increase by multiple times. Budget lapsable also has a positive side because all the work gets completed on time without any excuses.

Hill Council is not getting undermined, the chaos and confusion are there because there is no Warrant of Precedence for the councillors. Once it is stated the whole issue will be resolved.

SMANLA DORJAY NURBU, Councillor Saspol constituency: How UT administration is functioning is undemocratic. The recent episode of medical service bond order for MBBS/BDS and PG Course for medical students without taking elected institutions in confidence is one of the examples. Most importantly ruling party is not aware of it. Though at the district level like before we still have public representation in the form of Hill Council. But at the state level, we do not have any public representation, instead, we have bureaucracy at the state. Though we have one MP he represents us at the centre. In a democracy, the first two pillars are executive and legislative, which check and balance each other. But in Ladakh, we have only one pillar i.e bureaucracy. Therefore we do not have basic democracy in Ladakh.

Question doesn't arise whether there is a power in the hand of a political body or not as at state level we do not have any political body. Secretaries don't come under the councils, only district officers come under it. Therefore the issue of democracy vs bureaucracy will remain forever unless we get a state-level public institution. It can be either in the form of a legislature or by empowering the councils to state-level public institutions. We need a state-level legislative wing be it based on statehood or empowering the existing council through the sixth schedule, I don't know.

Our Hill Council is such a public institution that doesn't exist in the whole of India. Therefore its empowerment is immensely important. After granting UT status to Ladakh and after budget allocation for the year 2021-22, Amit Shah had said on record, "The budget will be decided by the public representatives where to spend the fund allocated and in addition, the budget will be made non-lapsable." But today it is not implemented on the ground, only Rs.232 crore is given to each council. Except for the revenue, part rest of the budget are decided and spent by the bureaucrats. Resulting only 27% of the last budget were used and the rest were surrendered. If the authority of budget execution is given to public institutions then definitely less amount will lapse and more portion of the budget will be used with effective result.

KONCHOK STANZIN, Councillor Chushul constituency: Before 5th August 2019, Hill Council was a supreme body in both districts. There were no interferences in its business by the then state of J&K. Today the situation has changed, UT Administration is ordering officers like JEs and other district officers. These officers under the directors are the council's staff. This is one reason for a tussle between UT Administration and the Hill Council. A recent incident with councillors on Republic Day further clears the situation. Councillors are public representatives and they must have some dignity in a public function. Therefore UT Ladakh must bring a Warrant of Precedence soon to define the status of councillors.

The current council has indeed developed and improved with time but until and unless we empower the council financially, till then we cannot call it an empowered institution. Budget allocation for Ladakh is Rs.5958 crore of which only 7.7% or Rs.464 crore has been allocated to the councils, the rest are spent by UT Administration without any calculation. The last budget of the council was Rs.207 crore and each penny has calculations where it was spent. But no one has asked the UT administration regarding its expenditure and we should ask as it is our money. With our money, they have set a hierarchy of Range Rover, Crysta and Scorpio and look at the offices and residents of the bureaucrats in Ladakh. Therefore empowerment of the council is a must because an elected body always has to explain to the public regarding its expenditure.

The money given by the centre should reach the last person in the queue or to the remotest villages in Zanskar and Changthang etc, which is only possible through empowering public institutions. Today one HOD is attending more than four meetings in a day and the result is crystal clear in front of us. This means district level officers are running the UT Administration due to a shortage of manpower in the UT. Resulting in neither UT administration functioning well nor district administration. In other states, the government collapsed if the price of onion crossed Rs.100 per kg but we consume it at Rs.150/kg normally. My question is who is responsible for the high inflation in Ladakh?

International Mother Language Day

International Mother Language Day is observed on February 21, every year to promote linguistic and cultural diversity and multilingualism. The idea to celebrate International Mother Language Day was the initiative of Bangladesh. It was approved at the 1999 UNESCO General Conference and has been observed throughout the world since 2000. UNESCO believes in the importance of cultural and linguistic diversity for sustainable societies. It is within its mandate for peace that it works to preserve the differences in cultures and languages that foster tolerance and respect for others.

On 16 May 2007 the United Nations General Assembly in its resolution A/RES/61/266 called upon the Member States "to promote the preservation and protection of all languages used by peoples of the world". By the same resolution, the General Assembly proclaimed 2008 as the International Year of Languages, to promote unity in diversity and international understanding, through multilingualism and multiculturalism and named the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization to serve as the lead agency for the Year.

The theme of the 2022 International Mother Language Day, "Using technology for multilingual learning: Challenges and opportunities", will discuss the potential role of technology to advance multilingual education and support the development of quality teaching and learning for all.

Today is better than tomorrow!

It is in human nature to be lazy and to postpone actions and decisions that could make a big difference in life. Let's admit that we do that, most of the time, for no good reason. As a result, we come out a loser. Therefore, what is needed is to ACT NOW, and live in the present.

Let me tell you that I am not a great go-getter, and fall a victim, quite often, of having to postpone decision-making processes. Therefore, I do feel the need to tell myself to stop the act of deceiving myself by assuming that tomorrow or any other day could be a better one.

Yes, at times you are forced to postpone things for no fault of yours. But one has to try not to be habitual. I haven't been able to fulfil my passion of getting footloose and go around places far and wide for a long time now because of the Covid pandemic. One can't do much about such factors but to learn to carry on with them without getting dejected. However, one has to remain quite alert to 'catch' the next knock on the door. Most of the time, it has been seen that one can have all that is dear to one's heart sooner or later. It is a natural phenomenon to see windows of opportunities opening up one's way if one gets serious enough.

Therefore, in short, I say: Act now, and be proactive. The word 'proactive' is very powerful as it signals positive action and calls for readiness to welcome challenges as if they were coming your way as your saviour in times of crisis.

Let us, therefore, go for a quote by the Ghanian author Lailah Gifty Akita in 'Think Great':

"The past is GONE, the present is NOW, and the future lies in far time. Let's make the most of NOW." Yes, we must and act now so that we don't leave ourselves out there for tomorrow's uncertainty!

In Conversation with Urgyan Phuntsog, State awardee Progressive farmer

Interviewed by Tenzin Dajon

Q. Brief us about yourself and what attracted you to farming?

I lost my father at the age of 12 and being the eldest my responsibilities towards my family grew. I had no choice but to learn all the farm activities to support my mother. I finished high school and got an opportunity to join Indo Tibetan Border Police but my mother used to have knee issues and considering that I had no other choice but to assist her.

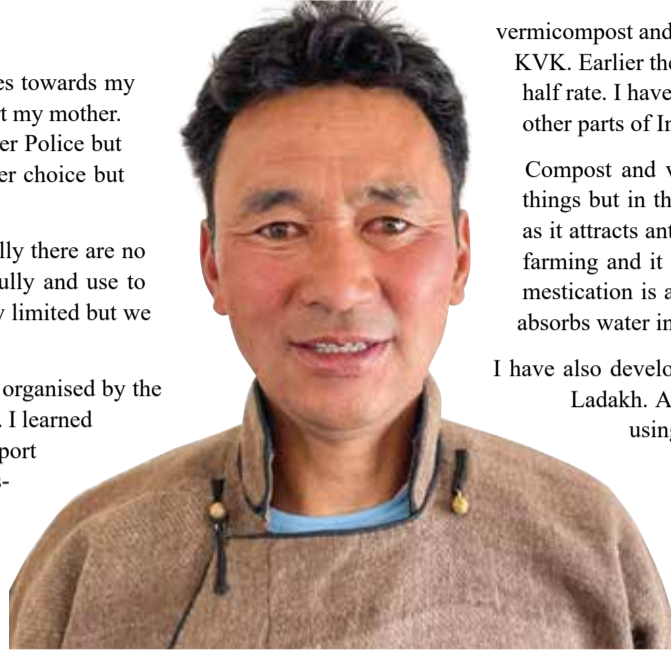

Fieldwork those days are not like today's, all the work are done manually there are no machines. I took the responsibilities of maintaining the family farm fully and use to grow potatoes, barley, peas etc. Earning income from the farm was very limited but we were self-sufficient.

In the year 2010, I had an opportunity to attend a 10-day exposure tour organised by the agriculture department in collaboration with the horticulture department. I learned that there is a possibility of growing a variety of crops. Later I got support from departments like agriculture, horticulture, KVK and animal husbandry which boosted my interest in farming.

I got an opportunity to participate in various exposure tours in agricultural universities, where I learned about growing various crops and methods of farming. Using the greenhouse, I started cultivating new crops. Today, I cultivate broccoli, cauliflower, onion, cabbage, fennel seeds, garlic, turnip, cucumber, lettuce etc.

Q. You have been engaged in farming for years, what changes you have observed with time?

Elders in the village used to tell that they used to experience very cold and harsh climatic conditions. There was no proper food, clothes or shelter and life was very challenging. Farming was a real tough job because of the lack of technology. It takes months to complete the harvesting and ploughing and in addition, the yields are very less. Though they have plenty of water and manure but lacks seeds to sow. They used to take grains on loan at a very high interest and get entangled in the vicious cycle of debt. Today, farming is free from debt and compulsion. But the process of farming was quite difficult even a couple of decades ago when I started the journey of farming. The situation is changed, nowadays with the help of machines farming has become much easier. Not only the yields have increased but the variety of vegetables cultivated also increased in Ladakh. Today I cultivate around 32 types of vegetables.

MESSAGE TO THE READERS

“Ladakh is at a very crucial stage. We have not yet lost the farming glory but it will hardly be going to take a decade to lose it if we neglect the sector. Time is to act before it's too late because we might be left with only memories and stories to tell.”

Q. Apart from farming, what other activities do you do?

Apart from farming, my family is also dependent on livestock. I own 16 cows, 435 goats and sheep and 8 horses. During summer I used to go as a horseman and helper with trekking groups. All of my family members are involved in various activities, my wife does pashmina work and my sister rears goats and sheep. I also generate and use vermicompost and sold around 300kg of worms to the agriculture department, and 180kg to KVK. Earlier the worms were procured from Kashmir for Rs.600 per kg but I sell them at half rate. I have trained around 400 youth, which includes youth from Ladakh, Japan and other parts of India.

Compost and vermicompost are different, in compost, we can put any biodegradable things but in the case of vermicompost, we usually avoid sugar and bones for a reason as it attracts ants and dogs etc which destroys it. Compost is quite necessary for organic farming and it is good for sustainable farming. Therefore, for sustainable farming, domestication is a must. The manure of goat and cow is considered best for farming as it absorbs water in it.

I have also developed a small farm at my old house to display the traditional lifestyle of Ladakh. Almost all the traditional works are done here like traditional handicrafts using ancient methods and tools.

Q. What is the biggest challenge faced by the farmers in Ladakh?

I believe challenges as a part of success and every work has challenges. Nowadays, farming has become easier than in earlier times because of high tech farming tools, equipment and government support. We do not need huge family members to work in fields like in earlier times. UT administration and LAHDC has many solutions if one has an interest in farming.

Q. How important is it to engage educated youth in agricultural activities?

First, it is necessary to bring change in our society regarding farming and agriculture. I feel proud as a farmer because I don't have to depend on others for vegetables and many other products. I think like doctors and engineers there should be a degree for farmers. We can do PhD in farming. In short, I mean to say that we should see farming as a profession.

For centuries our ancestors were dependent on farming and domestication. Therefore, youth must realise that it is an important part of our culture as well. In the coming years, the Zojila tunnel will be opened and there will be a huge opportunity in the farming sector as we can reverse the supply chain. If youths neglect the sector then we have to be completely dependent on inorganic supply. Therefore youth must engage themselves in agriculture activities and must do farming at a commercial level.

Q. You are honoured with the state award last year on Republic Day. How important is it to recognise farmers like you by the government to boost their morale?

Farmers in Zaskar and Changthang will have to face more difficulties than me as I live just 75 km away from Leh. They do not have easy access to departments and officers etc for support and guidance. There will be better farmers than me in those regions. Therefore, I believe that recognising their effort is very important. But one must remember that one's effort should not end after recognition because his/her responsibility gets double. to work even harder and better as the world will follow your work. I think like me it will also motivate my fellow farmers.

I used to think that no one asks about farmers but I am deeply honoured and happy to hear my work mentioned by Prime Minister in the 'Maan ki Baat' program. It has been 17-18 years engaged in farming activities and I think it is the result of it. Each member of my family has contributed to it. I feel we must focus on our work, recognition will follow.
